

Tax defence.

Protect yourself from tax investigations

Any UK taxpayer can be randomly selected for a tax investigation by HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC).

Tax investigations often last up to two years, cause untold disruption to day to day life and require thousands of pounds of professional representation from an expert to answer the tax inspector's questions and negotiate the best possible result for you.

Tax Defence is an insurance policy that provides you with up to £75,000 of professional representation from a Tax Defence consultant to defend you in the event of a tax dispute.

All of our Tax Defence consultants are ex-HMRC tax and VAT inspectors so they understand exactly how to fight HMRC and the tactics that the taxman will use. You'll benefit from complete peace of mind that we'll fight your corner and negotiate the best possible outcome for you.

Tax Defence – for businesses and personal taxpayers

Whether you are in business or a private individual, our premiums are tailored to suit your specific needs and start at just £186 per annum. HMRC can conduct a range of different types of enquiries and Tax

Defence is designed to offer you complete protection for:

- Business self assessment full enquiries
- Income Tax self assessment aspect enquiries
- Employer compliance disputes
- VAT disputes
- Personal self assessment full enquiries
- Corporation Tax self assessment aspect enquiries
- IR35 disputes
- Schedule 36 enquiries e.g. Business records checks

Businesses

Business cover is suitable for all types of businesses - companies, partnerships and sole traders. If you are a director or partner of a business, HMRC can also conduct an enquiry into your personal tax return. To ensure you have representation for these personal enquiries, you should also pay for a personal premium for each director/partner.

Private individuals

Personal cover is suitable for private individuals for enquiries relating to personal, rent or investment income.

Peace of mind

- Expert representation in the event of an enquiry
- Confidence that you will not need to concede for financial reasons
- The ability to fight the HMRC on an equal basis

For a no obligation quote call 0345 223 2727 or email taxmarketinguk@markel.com